At this stage of the year my thoughts are more and more turning to our celebrations at the end of the year. We say farewell to our 6 year two students who have been transitioning into year 3. We also welcome 5 children who are transitioning from preschool into our JP class. Parents are welcome to join us for our graduation assembly followed by a sausage sizzle.
There has been quite a bit of illness lately which has disrupted our program. The children have recovered now so it is essential that they attend every day to gain the most out of the learning program up to the graduation ceremony.
Teachers are very busy writing end of year reports which will be sent home early in the last week (approx. Dec 9th).
If you have been considering joining our Governing Council or being a volunteer in 2015 please drop in to see me. We can then complete the necessary paper work. At this stage we do not have a Governing Council for next year.

Welcome to Jamie, Elijah, Tremaine, Travis and Rovina who are doing transition visits in the JP class ready for starting school in 2015.

We have been working very hard on our research projects. We choose a topic that we wanted to learn more about. We went to the Library to collect some books about our topic. We also looked on the internet to collect information. We read some facts with teachers and then chose how we wanted to share / display our information. We can’t wait to share our projects with you at assembly.

Us at play. Play is an important part of learning and the children have been making things from sand and then describing them to teachers. Play encourages communication, interaction with others, sharing, patience and taking turns and using imagination, pretending to be a builder/fireman/policeman etc.

The children have been reading together.

Our Pre-school Transition students. (Growing up so fast)
We cannot believe it is week 6 already! That leaves only 4 weeks left on the school year, and of course only 4 weeks before some of our preschool children make the big transition to reception next year. This week will also be the final week of transition visits, which will be every day this week (Tuesday 8:45am-12:00pm & Wednesday 8:45am – 1:30pm).

As we get closer to the end of the year, this means we also start counting down the days till Christmas! This being the case the preschool and occasional care children have started making and decorating Christmas decorations! Last we begun by collecting and decorating pinecones!!

Other than Christmas decoration we have also been busy doing a lot of playing!! Check out some of our pictures below...
